More Info? The Chandler Academy of Performing Arts and Technology focuses on band and orchestra ensembles and integrating media and technology. Classes offered are for band and orchestra students in grades 6-12, and include activities for students to enhance and improve musical and personal growth on their instrument. Teachers and special guests guide students through master classes, sectionals, and courses all focused on improving student performance.

We are also very excited to feature classes on responsible media production and music technology. Students learn about copyright, storyboarding, shooting video and stills, editing, audio capture, and audio production. In addition, students learn about how technology can enhance their practicing and performance, as well as, knowledge of music theory and composition.

This year, experts from the Conservatory of Recording Arts and Sciences will give our students hands-on experience with the science of sound along with state-of-of-the-art audio recording and production. Also, PYS student musicians will visit our camp as role models, performing and working side-by-side with our students.
